Spectacled Twirler of Cardinals Halts Winning Streak of Robins-Betzel and Hornsby Star Performers for Huggins's Team

By CHARLES A. TAYLOR

The argus-eyed Lee Meadows, of the St. Louis Cardinals, put an end to the winning streak of the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday afternoon. after a strenuous pitchers' battle with Jeff Pfeffer. The score was 3 to 1 in favor of the visitors from the Mound City, "Specs" allowed the National League champions only three hits and fanned six of them

Brilliant fielding on the part of "Pretzel" Betzel and Roger Hornsby contributed not a little to the success of Meadows. These players turned at least a half dozen hard smashes that would have ordinarily been hits into outs and did their work with such ease and grace as to win the generous applause of the Flatbush fans.

Casey's hit was the last allowed by Meadows during the game. Both pitcheres, in fact, were so effective and the fielding behind them was so fast and accurate that as inning after inning went by without either side threatening the plate the fans settled back in their seats, reconciled to the prospect of late suppers.
